Abstract	Since 2022, the Department of Children's Studies in the Faculty of Children's Studies at the Nishikyushu University has conducted educational volunteer activities in cooperation with the Saga Prefectural Board of Education and Saga Prefectural Special Needs School. 80 students volunteered at the special needs school in 2023. The students worked to support the school life of the students at the special-needs schools and to assist with school events. While most of the students felt that the educational volunteer activities were beneficial to them, about 10% of the students did not have a strong desire to work in childcare or education after participating in the educational volunteer activities.
