| Abstract    | This research notebook investigates the history and current status of 11 elementary schools in 9 school unions based on information published on websites and other sources. Looking at the school unions surveyed this time, there were 4 unions and 4 schools (Fuse Elementary School, Yoki Elementary School, Hirota Elementary School, and Kamo Elementary School) that were considered to be the reason for the separation and annexation at the time of the merger of municipalities. In addition, although there was a sense of unity as a district, there was no merger that involved division, and there were 4 unions and 4 schools (Ryoonono Elementary School, Makinohara Elementary School, Harima Kogen Higashi Elementary School, and Sasayama Elementary School) that were divided as a municipality. In addition, there were 3 administrative unions (Kasagi Elementary School, Wazuka Elementary School, and Minamiyamashiro Elementary School) that retained the form of a single town and village. |
