Abstract	In the department of food and nutrition, student-student or student-teacher have been cooperatively addressed the food and nutrition education in the class of “Tomoni-Manabu ASUNAROU (nutrition)” since 2007. In this year, we carried out practical activities outside the university to investigate the practical side of methods of the food and nutrition education and its development. It was suggested that student got the senses of accomplishment and satisfaction through these activities. Furthermore, we would like to lead student to improve the communication skill and to develop the sociality through the exchange with the community by increasing practical activities in the future.
keyword	Shokuiku, Practical activity
