Abstract	I think that there are two types of care relocations for CCRCs and other facilities: relocation from Tokyo to regional cities and relocation from mountainous areas to large cities. In addition, when considering assistance, it is expected that people may be treated in an exclusive manner by those around them because they are in a different area from where they are used to living, or that it may take time for them to get used to it, or that they may not be able to fit in and may become withdrawn. A salon business is effective in resolving this, but some kind of spirituality is necessary, and the theory is derived from the use of the equal values in the tea ceremony, and the interview effect is derived as supporting evidence.
